Young London letting agency commended

Lettings agency Young London has been shortlisted as one of the best in the capital.

The estate agent is one step closer to picking up an accolade at the Estate & Letting Agent Awards – which is sponsored by PSG.

Shortlisting for the competition was carried out following a poll of recent customers, who were asked about the service they received from their agent.

More than 30,000 customers were sent a questionnaire during the competition.

Young London will go on to compete against agencies from Northern Ireland, Scotland, Wales and six regions in the UK.

Winners will be presented their award by Phil Spencer from Channel 4's property show Location, Location, Location.

He said: "This is the 6th year of the Estate & Letting Agent Awards and I've increasingly enjoyed being part of the celebrations on each occasion."

Earlier this year, Mr Spencer's property business Garrington Home Finders went into administration.
